Let's Start!

Hello. Good morning. Could I speak to ... ?

Learning Outcome

Exchange information on instructions about basic activities and safety at work.

Can Do Statements

- I can start a formal telephone call.
- I can express possibility.
- I can talk about jobs and work.

Ask your partner:

- How do you greet your friends?
- How do you greet someone you don't know?
- How do you greet someone who is older than you?

Let's Explore!

Peter gets a call from an important person ... Who is it?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Mr. Jones: Hello, this is Mr. Jones. I am calling from SMC Consulting. May I speak to Peter Smith please?
- Peter: Hello, this is Peter speaking.
- Mr. Jones: Peter. How are you today?
- Peter: I'm well, thanks. How are you?
- Mr. Jones: Great. I would like to set up a job interview with you for the office assistant position. Your qualifications and experience match what we are looking for. Okay. When?
- Peter: Can you come this Tuesday afternoon?
- Mr. Jones: Hmm ... I can't. Is there a slot in the morning?
- Peter: Why don't you come Wednesday morning? Can you make it?
- Mr. Jones: Yes, of course.
- Peter: Fantastic. Let's meet Wednesday. My secretary can e-mail the details to you. Remember to bring your résumé and reference letters.

Let's Practice!

Let's start a telephone call. What do you say?

e.g. Your qualifications match what we are looking for.
- experience (noun): the skills you have from past jobs
e.g. Your work experience matches what we are looking for.

Learning Points

Formal vs. Informal Phone Calls

When you speak on the phone, the language you use changes.

The phrases you use to talk to a friend are not the same as the phrases you use to talk to your boss.

	Formal	Informal
Making a call	Hello, this is (name) from (company).	Hey, it's (name).
Answering the Call	This is (name) speaking.	Yes?
Asking for Somebody	May/Can I speak to (name), please?	Is (name) there?
Reason for Calling	I'm calling about/to ...	Just calling about ... Just calling to ...

The Modal Can for Possibility

The modal can is used to ask and say what is possible. The negative form is can't. They go before a verb in the base form.

I can come on Wednesday.

I can't come tomorrow.

After a question, you do not need to repeat the information in the sentence.

Mr. Martin: Can you come on Tuesday at 2:00?

Carla: Yes, I can./No, I can't.
