

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Can I suggest another way? Let's write a formal letter to a colleague.

Learning Outcome

Exchange information on instructions about basic activities and safety at work.

Can Do Statements

- I can write a short, formal e-mail.
- I can politely disagree with colleagues.
- I can politely give my opinion.

Ask a partner:

- What are some polite ways to disagree with someone?
- Can you use these phrases at work? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

Paula Johnson politely disagrees with her colleague, Bill Jones at SMC Consulting. What does she need to get back to him about?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Bill: Thank you everyone. The last issue I want to bring up is the night shift.
Paula: Oh, is there a problem, Bill?
Bill: Well, evening work is difficult. Our employees want to spend time with their families.
Paula: What are you suggesting?
Bill: I'm suggesting that our employees should finish work at 5 p.m. I believe our company employees don't need to work the night shift. Paula, what do you think?
Paula: I have to look at the numbers.
Bill: I think it is important. Get back to me ASAP.
Paula: I don't know if the company can afford it.

Let's Practice!

Paula has to look at the numbers. Let's learn about how to write a formal e-mail.

Instructions: Proofread each sentence. Find and fix the mistake. Each sentence has 1 mistake.

1. I am affraid that I do not agree with your opinion.
2. I understand your points, but I would like to oferr an alternative idea.
3. I beleive that the new employee should be working the night shifts.

Let's Practice!

Do you know what to include in a formal e-mail? Let's find out.

Instructions: Select all the correct answers.

1. What does a formal letter include?
 - a. Contractions like it's
 - b. A sign off or closing
 - c. Your middle name
 - d. Salutation
 - e. Slang

Extension Activity

Now it's your turn to write a formal e-mail.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write an e-mail to your boss.
- Use the Present Continuous tense.
- Disagree politely about something.
- Use expressions to give your opinion.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write complete statements in an e-mail.

☐
☐

I use expressions to give my opinion.

☐
☐

I disagree politely.

☐
☐

Salutation:

Sentence 1:

Sentence 2:

Sentence 3:

Sign off:

Name:

Target Words

- response (noun): answer
e.g. My response to your idea is ...
- alternative (noun): another way
e.g. I have an alternative.
- ASAP (expression): as soon as possible
e.g. Get back to me ASAP.
- opinion (noun): what someone thinks e.g. In my opinion, he is the best teacher!
- staff (noun): a group of employees
e.g. The staff work from 9 a.m to 5 p.m.
- to benefit (verb): to receive an advantage, use with from e.g. We can benefit from more staff meetings.
- agreement (noun): a situation when two people have the same opinion e.g. Bill and I are in agreement about this.
- paragraph (noun): a group of sentences with one idea
e.g. The first paragraph is about my opinion.
- to offer (verb): to present something to someone
e.g. Joe: Can I offer you a drink?
Nancy: Sure!

Learning Points

Present Simple Tense

Use the Present Simple to talk about facts and usual actions.

To form the negative, use do/does not before the verb.

Do not add s to the verb when used with he, she, it.

Pay attention to the short form don't. It's used in talking.

To form a yes/no question, use do/does and change the word order like this: Do/Does + subject + verb

Do not add s to the verb with he, she, it.

Examples:

- Evening work is difficult.
- I don't know if the company can afford it.
- Do the employees work a lot of overtime?

